The Boyd-Orr Lecture (Plenary Lecture: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: C. Seal, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, UK; K. Younger, Dublin Institute of Technology, Dublin, Republic of Ireland

Cost-effective measures to prevent obesity: epidemiological basis and appropriate target groups.
J. C. Seidell, A. J. Nooyens & T. L. S. Visscher 1–5

Obesity and metabolic diseases (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: K. N. Frayn, University of Oxford, Oxford, UK; F. Andrews, Dublin, Republic of Ireland

Obesity and metabolic disease: is adipose tissue the culprit?
K. N. Frayn 7–13

Endothelial dysfunction: role in obesity-related disorders and the early origins of CVD.
A. Singhal 15–22

Fatty acids and the metabolic syndrome.
H. M. Roche 23–29

Plenary Lecture (5–8 July 2004)

Chair: J. Mathers, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, UK

The biology of obesity.
P. Trayhurn 31–38

Biology of obesity (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: P. Trayhurn, University of Liverpool, Liverpool, UK; J. Mathers, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, UK

Central regulation of energy balance: inputs, outputs and leptin resistance.
J. R. S. Arch 39–46

Respiration uncoupling and metabolism in the control of energy expenditure.
D. Ricquier 47–52

Brain–adipose tissue cross talk.
T. J. Bartness, C. K. Song, H. Shi, R. R. Bowers & M. T. Foster 53–64

Plenary Lecture (5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: B. Livingstone, University of Ulster, Coleraine, Northern Ireland; A. McGloin, Trinity College, Dublin, Republic of Ireland

Clinical treatment of obesity: are drugs and surgery the answer?
P. G. Kopelman 65–71

Treatment of obesity (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: B. Livingstone, University of Ulster, Coleraine, Northern Ireland;
A. McGloin, Trinity College, Dublin, Republic of Ireland

Understanding the aetiology of childhood obesity: implications for treatment.
J. Wardle 73–79

Lifestyle strategies for weight control: experience from the Finnish Diabetes Prevention Study.
J. Lindström, M. Peltonen & J. Tuomilehto, for the Finnish Diabetes Prevention Study Group 81–88

Helping individuals to help themselves.
L. Costain & H. Croker 89–96

Weight management in primary care: how can it be made more effective?
A. Maryon-Davis 97–103

The role of low-glycaemic diets in obesity and health (Satellite Symposium Proceedings: 6 July 2004)

Chair: T. Sanders, Kings College, London, UK

Low-glycaemic diets and health: implications for obesity.
G. Livesey 105–113

Expressing the glycaemic potency of foods.
J. Monro 115–122

Plants as animal foods: a case of catch 22? (Symposium Proceedings: 19 April 2004)

Chairs: J. Houdijk, Scottish Agricultural College, Edinburgh, UK;
M. Gore, University Marine Biology Station, Millport, UK

The role of plant secondary metabolites in mammalian herbivory: ecological perspectives.
G. Iason 123–131

Genes, behaviour and environment (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: C. J. Seal, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, UK;
K. M. Younger, Dublin Institute of Technology, Dublin, Republic of Ireland

Genetics of human obesity.
K. Clément 133–142

Fetal origins of insulin resistance and obesity.
C. J. Stocker, J. R. S. Arch & M. A. Cawthorne 143–151

Insights from the developing world: thrifty genotypes and thrifty phenotypes.
A. M. Prentice, P. Rayco-Solon & S. E. Moore 153–161

Biology of obesity (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: P. Trayhurn, University of Liverpool, Liverpool, UK;
J. C. Mathers, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, UK

Secretory factors from human adipose tissue and their functional role.
H. Hauner 163–169

Postgraduate Symposium (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: A. Flynn, University College Cork, Cork, Republic of Ireland;
J. J. Strain, University of Ulster, Coleraine, Northern Ireland

The effects of conjugated linoleic acid on human health-related outcomes.
S. Tricon, G. C. Burdge, C. M. Williams, P. C. Calder & P. Yaqoob 171–182
Bone turnover and nutritional status in Crohn's disease: relationship to circulating mononuclear cell function and response to fish oil and antioxidants.
T. M. Trebble 183–191
Vitamin D status and its relationship with parathyroid hormone and bone mineral status in older adolescents.
A. M. Willett 193–203
Influence of triacylglycerol structure of stearic acid-rich fats on postprandial lipaemia.
S. E. E. Berry & T. A. B. Sanders 205–212
Peptide YY, appetite and food intake.
C. W. le Roux & S. R. Bloom 213–216

Plenary Lecture (5–8 July 2004)

Chair: M. Kiely, University College Cork, Cork, Republic of Ireland

Dietary strategies for the prevention of obesity.
S. A. Jebb 217–227

Prevention of obesity (Symposium Proceedings: 5–8 July 2004)

Chairs: S. A. Jebb, MRC Human Nutrition Laboratory, Cambridge, UK;
M. Kiely, University College Cork, Cork, Republic of Ireland

Physical activity and obesity prevention: a review of the current evidence.
N. J. Wareham, E. M. F. van Sluijs & U. Ekelund 229–247
School- and family-based interventions to prevent overweight in children.
M. J. Müller, S. Danielzik & S. Pust 249–254
Obesity prevention: necessary and possible. A structured approach for effective planning.
T. Gill, L. King & I. Caterson 255–261

Malnutrition in obesity (Symposium Proceedings: 19–20 November 2003)

Chair: I. Fellows, Norfolk and Norwich University Hospital, Norwich, UK

The management of short-term intestinal failure in obese patients.
J. Powell-Tuck 263–267

2002 Nutricia Clinical Care Research Grant Award (17–18 November 2004)

Chair: A. Holdoway, Nutricia Clinical Care, Trowbridge, Wiltshire, UK

Hospital mealtimes: action research for change?
A. Dickinson, C. Welch, L. Ager & A. Costar 269–275

End points in clinical nutrition trials (Symposium Proceedings: 17–18 November 2004)

Chair: G. Grimble, London Metropolitan University, London, UK

Death, morbidity and economics are the only end points for trials.
R. L. Koretz 277–284

Physiological functions should be considered as true end points of nutritional intervention studies.
L. Genton, W. van Gemert, C. Pichard & P. Soeters 285–296

Biochemical homeostasis and body growth are reliable end points in clinical nutrition trials.
W. C. Heird 297–303

Sir David Cuthbertson Medal Lecture (17–18 November 2004)

Elucidating effective ways to identify and treat malnutrition.
R. J. Stratton 305–311

From beginners to zimmers (Symposium Proceedings: 17–18 November 2004)

Chair: B. McElroy, Royal Shrewsbury Hospital, Shrewsbury, UK

Use of BMI in the assessment of undernutrition in older subjects: reflecting on practice.
Z. Cook, S. Kirk, S. Lawrenson & S. Sandford 313–317

Pennington Lecture (17–18 November 2004)

Integrated nutrition.
S. P. Allison 319–323

Challenges of enteral feeding from the acute to the community setting (Symposium Proceedings: 17–18 November 2004)

Chair: I. W. Fellows, Norfolk & Norwich University Hospital, Norfolk, UK

Should food or supplements be used in the community for the treatment of disease-related malnutrition?
R. J. Stratton 325–333

Practice and problems with gastrostomies.
G. McHattie 335–337

The parent's perspective.
T. Culverwell 339–343

The ticking time bomb: the metabolic syndrome (LIPGENE Conference Proceedings: 1 December 2004)

Chairs: R. Pickard and J Buttriss, British Nutrition Foundation, London, UK; C. Williams, University of Reading, Reading, UK

LIPGENE: an integrated approach to tackling the metabolic syndrome.
J. Buttriss & A. Nugent 345–347

Metabolic syndrome: what is it and what are the implications?
D. I. Shaw, W. L. Hall & C. M. Williams 349–357

J. A. Napier & O. Sayanova 387–393
The role of animal nutrition in improving the nutritive value of animal-derived foods in relation to chronic disease.
D. I. Givens 395–402

Plants as animal foods: a case of catch 22? (Symposium Proceedings: 19 April 2004)

Chairs: J. Houdijk, Scottish Agricultural College, Edinburgh, UK; M. Gore, University Marine Biology Station, Millport, UK

Biochemistry of plant secondary metabolites and their effects in animals.
T. Acamovic & J. D. Brooker 403–412

Reacting to allergy (Symposium Proceedings: 12 April 2005)

Chairs: E. Magee, NHS Tayside, Dundee, UK; M. Gore, University of Glasgow, Glasgow, UK

Prevalence of food allergy: an overview.
C. Madsen 413–417
Dietary exposure to chemicals within the process of risk assessment: possible applications to substances that may cause allergic reactions.
D. Arcella, C. Le Donne & C. Leclercq 418–425
Characterisation of immune responses to food allergens in mice.
R. J. Dearman & I. Kimber 426–433
Coeliac disease: a diverse clinical syndrome caused by intolerance of wheat, barley and rye.
N. McGough & J. H. Cummings 434–450
